

Plagued by Black Death

Hecate Enthroned

Auguries of disease have finally come to pass over this world In clouds rampant pestiliferous death raining down from the skies Crowds gasping for air as the abhorrence takes hold I am as one with the pestilence, bestowing this final gift

Sowing contagion amongst the helpless flock Mercilessly I am scourge to man and beast alike Their feeble shepherd writhes, his skin blistered and cold
I am the death of God, plagueous black salvation

The earth I defile Extinction of the human race Satan's will unfurled

Plagued by black death

Poison seeps through the veil, the absence between the worlds Plunging doomed the lands into eternal night Power unrivalled, anticosmic darkness unbridled Purification through all pervading nightfall's vines

Plagued by black death

As the seraphim cease their song
With the heavens collapsing around them
Behold, the emptiness of the lightless sky
Behold, the majesty of pestilential death

Behold the emptiness of the lightless sky
A vast unmoving expanse
Behold the majesty of pestilential death
And the contamination of all life
