A Sweet And Deep Bomb In My Heart

Helalyn Flowers

Sometimes we cry like dolls in a cage
Sometimes we smile like heroes in space
How many times they get to you
Like iron butterflies...

And disappear 'cause you wanna be someone else
And try to change to be the king of your life
There is not a hell for the drugs
There is not a heaven
For the only ones that are still prayin'

But now
I've found a deep and sweet bomb in my heart
Come to me
We'll disappear in a world without lies
And now
I've found a deep and sweet bomb in my heart
Come to me
We'll disappear in our world

How many times they get to you
Like iron butterflies...

And disappear 'cause you wanna be someone else
And try to change to be the king of your life
There is not a hell for the drugs
There is not a heaven
For the only ones that are still prayin'
('Cause they think they could be saved)

But now
I've found a deep and sweet bomb in my heart
Come to me
We'll disappear in a world without lies
And now
I've found a deep and sweet bomb in my heart
Come to me
We'll disappear in our world

They get inside like iron butterflies

In my heart...
In my heart... a deep bomb...
