

Frozen Star

Helalyn Flowers

There is no place for a frozen star now
Your memory is ablaze
But your thrill's so cold
A dream in a cage, a king with no scepter
But where is your flame?
What have you become now?

You wanted to steal my soul
You're everything is going
To die and reborn in me
I'm ready to disconnect

You need to fill the void
Just keep the key in my hand
Before I start the game
It'll never be the same

There is no place for a frozen star
Now that I'm falling down
Holding on my crown
Through the coldest sound
Of ashes and dust

It never be the same
It never be the same
No, no it never

And I'm falling down

Holding on my crown
But where is your flame?
What have you become now?

You wanted to steal my love
Defusing my heart like a
Time bomb ready to crash
No way disconnect

Stand up inside the coil
Looking for someone to blame
But if the mission will fail
It'll never be the same

There is no place for a frozen star
Now that I'm falling down
Holding on my crown
Through the coldest sound
Of ashes and dust

It never be the same
It never be the same
No, no it never

And I'm falling down
Holding on my crown
But where is your flame?
What have you become now?
