

Do It Like You Done It When You Meant It

Helen Reddy

Tell me, baby, what's come over you
You never try to satisfy me like you used to do
I don't seem to reach you anymore
I wanna know, where did the feeling go

When we kiss, your mind is somewhere else
I say that I love you and I feel like I'm talking to myself
I'm on fire, but you don't feed the flame
We're going through the motions, but nothing's the same

Do it like you done it when you meant it
Baby, bring it back to where it used to be
Something sweet and beautiful is dying
Something that was once a part of you and me

We used to get it all together
We were really happy then
Do it like you done it when you meant it
We got to get it back again

Day by day we're drifting far apart
I gotta find a way to climb the wall around your heart
Every time I take you in my arms
You're cold as ice, you know that just ain't nice

But I'll stay no matter what you do
'Cause all in all, I know that I'm really still in love with you
Even though it hurts the way it does
I can still remember how wonderful it was

Do it like you done it when you meant it
Baby, bring it back to where it used to be
Something sweet and beautiful is dying
Something that was once a part of you and me

Do it like you done it when you meant it
Baby, bring it back to where it used to be
Something sweet and beautiful is dying
Something that was once a part of you and me

Do it like you done it when you meant it
Baby, bring it back to where it used to be
Something sweet and beautiful is dying
Something that was once a part of you and me
