

Hold Me In Your Dreams Tonight

Helen Reddy

I'd like to play a song for you right now
That's a particular favorite of mine
I really hope it's one of yours too
And if it's not, tough
Haha

Hold me in your arms for a little while
Stay home 'til the early morning light
I'll hold you in my heart forever
If you hold me in your dreams tonight

I know you got a lot of other ladies
I know I'm not the only one in sight
But hold them off please until tomorrow
And hold me in your dreams tonight

You can lie to me
And tell me that you love me (tell me that you love me)
You can say, that I'm the best you've ever known

I swear, I'll never hold you
To a single word you're sayin'
But it makes it so much easier
For me to be alone

Hold me in your arms for a little while
Stay home 'til the early morning light
I'll hold you in my heart forever
If you hold me in your dreams tonight

Oh, I swear, I'll never hold you
To a single word you're sayin'
But it makes it so much easier
For me to be alone

Hold me in your arms for a little while
Stay home 'til the early morning light
I'll hold you in my heart forever
If you hold me in your dreams tonight

Only hold me in your dreams tonight
