

Body Language

Helena Deland

I admit it's late
To show up here and in this state but
I disagree
We should talk there are some things that I need
To hear you say

Now that it's too late
To figure out how to separate
I still could get comfortable
If you only let me in on what's on your mind
What is on your mind?
Body language gets old with time
And I can't read your mind

I can't talk to you
Something happens when I try to
I can't talk to you
Something happens when I try to

Fool to think I'd leave with all I need to know and free to go
All I need to know and free to go
At last

Who do you want to be?
Who you think you are to me?
Let me in before
I've forgotten what I'm waiting for

What do you take this to be?
What is it that you want from me?
Let me in before
I've forgotten what I'm waiting for
How could I explain
When our inventions leaves out the name?
I cannot explain

If I can't talk to you
Something happens when I try to
If I can't talk to you
Something happens when I try to

Fool to think I'd leave with all I need to know and free to go
All I need to know and free to go
At last

What is on your mind?
Body language gets old with time
And I can't read your mind
Body language gets old with time
And I can't read your mind

Free at last
Free at last