Helena Deland

You don't love your freedom
And I want your affection
In spite of the temptation
We both think we should wait

Is it in the way you give?
Or is it in the way I take?
How much can you forgive
If I never think to stay?

Now I'm about to give it some time
You can take yours and I'll take mine
Now I'm about to give it some time
You can take yours and I'll take mine
Now I'm about to give it some time
You can take yours and I'll take mine
Now I'm about to give it some time
You can take yours and I'll take mine

I chase down my freedom
Seduce it to submission
In spite of the temptation
I want some space
You don't need your freedom
Enough to have it stay
With all of mine around
I can't let yours get in the way

Is it in the way you give?
Or is it in the way I take?
How much can you forgive
If I never think to stay?

Now I'm about to give it some time
You can take yours and I'll take mine
Now I'm about to give it some time
You can take yours and I'll take mine
Now I'm about to give it some time
You can take yours and I'll take mine
Now I'm about to give it some time
You can take yours and I'll take mine
