

Empty Room

Helker

No need to ask, no need to stay
There is no chance at all
I can't pretend
Already gone
So full of joy, so full of lies
A world of distant souls
An empty smile, an empty love

What it once was a dream
Now is gold, without shine

There's no reason to go on
While they're coming back for more
There's no reason to believe
Answers run away from me
When I look into your eyes
There's no will, no life I only find
Another empty room

I am waiting for the same
To feel once again
The light in me deep inside
In this life of despair
Where the beauty is not real
And freedom is just a lie
