

Maybe you are right, maybe I am wrong
I don't care it's my life
Living everywhere, feeling the inner beast
I can take the beating
The screams are in the air, the heads are like a sea
And I'm here to give it all
The thunderstorm arrives, be ready for the mass
Now the battle has begun

Crawl and climb along the way to understand

It's fire and wind what we give to the world
It's thunder and quake when we go, on the road

Maybe I am right maybe you are wrong
I don't care it's your life
Waiting in the rain, waiting in the heat
They can take the beating
Fire in the air, makers of the way
And they're here to take it all
Master of the chaos, black becomes the law
And we share our fire soul
