

Just be Yourself

Helker

Yes it's true that fate is the one
That deals all cards
But it's up to you how you play the game
You feel proud of yourself
You are close to your target
You must leave all behind
And keep on fighting

Do not try to be someone else
What they care about
Is not what you want
You are not better or worse
Just be yourself

They are lying

When you walk other roads
You feel alone
If you can't reach your goal
You must build your own road
And stay true to yourself
No matter what they say

Do not try to be someone else
What they care about
Is not what you want
You are not better or worse
Just be yourself
