

Ghoul

Hellions

It wasn't just embezzlement, you thieving witch, you don't know the half of it
We've been in and out of near destitution Terrified and disillusioned
All of this on your wretched hands, you tore apart a family man
So he took a drink and then the drink took him
And it's been this way nearly each night since Incredulous, track back, cheques bounce, façade cracks, we will fall apart, you open your scars Lost in the dark, we fall you'll soon beg to be set free and se e
My family stand tall with me
But you'll never get that chance
This is all that you have left, how could you laugh as you watc hed us all fall apart?
Two children lost in the dark
The robbed that smiles, steals something from the thief, scratc h and claw, through tooth and nail, but you will never take int egrity from me
I earned to listen and I listened well
To a steady slew of trivial pleasures, with nothing left to kin dle the blood
But a sordid tryst, a yielding to lust you fucked it up, so bac k to back, you cover your tracks, but remember when you can't h ide from us
Hither at the end of the river Lave in the burning shambles, perceived as fools, you played us all, you answer to the coven call, you're hand in hand amidst the ghouls
I hope you hear this in your sleep
When in your dreams you cannot breath You'll look up and you'll see me Taking back the youth that you stole from me
My fathers hands used to shake
