

Anytime, Anyform

Hellogoodbye

It could be anytime
I could take any form
It doesn't matter
All that's left is a feeling
This feeling

When I was rich
Everything was cheap
I thought that my body was
A thing that could keep

So I learned to kiss the air
And to feel it kissing me
So even when there's nothing there
I keep making love for free