

How Wrong I Can Be

Hellogoodbye

And I was afraid
I ran so fast I cried I didn't know
I would awake in just the nick of time
And I could see
And I could see your sun in me

And it was a shove
So I shoved right back, you have to understand
I was in love and I will try to fight for it
And I could see
And I could see your sun in me

I could see just how long I could be your How long it could take to figure out

Holding you close
I danced around for a little while
I didn't know I was your heart...beat

And I could see just how long I could be your
and how long it could take to figure out
And I could see just how long I could be your
And how long it could take to figure out