

Hand Of God

Helloween

Right before I die, I see the hand of God
See the hand of God

Every step I'm taking leaves echoes in my heart
With every breath that's fading, I feel the weight of my path
Forgiveness in twilight, I see the shadows cast
I made my choices, redemption from the past

Right before I die, I see the hand of God
See the hand of God
Right before I rise, I see the light of love
Coming from above

While the gate is closing, I'm losing sight of time
A mirror of reflection, my body left behind
My heartbeat is pounding, from future and the past
All the tragic memories torn apart, torn apart

Right before I die, I see the hand of God
See the hand of God
Right before I rise, I see the light of love
Coming from above

Right before I die, I see the hand of God
See the hand of God, yeah
Right before I rise, I see the light of love
Coming from above

Can I take the hand of God?
Oh, oh
Right before I die, can I take the hand of God?
Hand of God