

Revolution Now

Halloween

Well, I think it's really time again for a revolution
Not to destroy at all costs but have a look at what's there
Can you remember a time when water was still water
Or are you too young to even know what we won't give to our heirs

Inhale the blessing of science through your lungs, skin and brain!
I'll surely make our children feel a lot more sane!

Revolution now!

I was born when April guaranteed a sexual renaissance
And today we're all faced with death, rubbers, and AIDS
In '68 some people went out to fight for freedom
They would never ever have thought that their children wear ties

And if you come to San Francisco
You're gonna meet some broken people there

Revolution now!
