Rise Without Chains

Helloween

Only illusion, a bad dream confusion
They know it's just false denial
I say adjacent lies something so ancient
A world where a soul can fly

Over the land to an ocean and strand
But don't ever
You should never

Rise without chains
Rise without chains
Hold it tight, don't fain
To rise up too high
Fly not too high
My oh my, don't try, no

Silver in color and thin like a fiber
The chain you may never break
Tight, hold it tight when you're out there and fight
The temptation to not awake

Hover and rise like a god of the skies
But don't ever
You should never

Rise without chains
Rise without chains
Hold it tight, don't fain
To rise up too high
Rise not too high
My oh my, you should never, never, never

Over the land to an ocean and strand
Hover and rise
You should never

Rise without chains
Rise without chains
Hold it tight, don't fain
To rise up too high
Fly not too high
My oh my, don't try
Never ever
Never ever
Never ever try without
