I love you, you the most
Hold you tight, I hold you close
I promise I won't let you go
If the world is 'bout to end
I think we should just pretend
I promise I won't let you know
If you love me, me the most
Hold me tight, hold me close
And promise you won't let me go
If the world is 'bout to end
I think we should just pretend
So promise you won't let me know

You're my one and only
And push to shove, it comes to love
Well you are never lonely
Because I'm here, let's make it clear
That you could never owe me
Because I know that you just gotta let love guide you
So when the sky is falling
And I feel stressed, no need to guess
That you're the one I'm calling
You help me feel, you help me deal
Yes, you know that I'm all in
I see you for you, I will never hide you, nah, yo

I love you, you the most
Hold you tight, I hold you close
I promise I won't let you go
If the world is 'bout to end
I think we should just pretend
I promise I won't let you know
If you love me, me the most
Hold me tight, hold me close
And promise you won't let me go
If the world is 'bout to end
I think we should just pretend
So promise you won't let me know

We can go far or we can go near
I don't really care as long as you're here
Follow my heart, I'ma let it steer
Broken road to you is now so clear
I don't really care what they say or do
They will never take me away from you
No matter what it is we gon' make it through
Matter what it is, we gon' make it through, oh
Let's just focus on the present, December
But not forget to make this a time to remember
Both been burned in the past, ember
Broken hearts club, yeah we used to be a member
Now that is over, finished, finito
Not more or less, no, you are my equal
Got me high up, yeah, just like a steeple
One twice over, you are my sequel

I love you, you the most

Hold you tight, I hold you close
I promise I won't let you go
If the world is 'bout to end
I think we should just pretend
I promise I won't let you know
If you love me, me the most
Hold me tight, hold me close
And promise you won't let me go
If the world is 'bout to end
I think we should just pretend
So promise you won't let me know
