

Everytime

Hendersin

Love hurts and we all know
You pick me up when I fall so
I fell for you, you got the love
That's hard to find like Waldo
And that's word to your momma
Remember back in the day when you had a Honda
Night's was so late and life was so great
Times that I wish we never fought like Ronda, no
But I'm blessed we made it past that Put stock in us like the Nasdaq
Things go up and down that's the way of life
I love you, I love you I had to say it twice
Cause baby your the one twice over
Be with you when I'm older
Always hold me down when the world gets colder (yeah)
You're imperfectly perfect
No matter what I know that its worth it

Everytime that I see your face it always makes me smile
And everytime that I drive to you it's always worth my while

I build you up like a tare down
You should chill go and let your hair down
Love is the truth so tell me hows a dare sound?
Clothes your about to take off like ya air bound
Yeah that's just me telling jokes
Can't put a price on love, me making quotes
Even when I really had my back against the ropes
You always would fight
Everytime that you left cause you always were right
But whats love if there's nobody to share it with?
I'ma thank you later like Drake you taking care of it
Never break ya heart, well maybe it might tare a bit
But they don't understand this love like we speaking Arabic
Yeah, and that's the reason why I loves it
Yeah, and that's the reason why we does it
Yea, we're imperfectly perfect
I promise in the end that its worth it

Everytime that I see your face it always makes me smile
And everytime that I drive to you it's always worth my while

From the moon to the sun
You should know that you always been the one (You got me like)
You're my soul you're my heart
I promise that even from the start (You had me like)
Weather whether bad you
Should know you're the best I ever had (You got me like)
From the moon to the sun
You should know that you always been the one, I love you

Everytime that I see your face it always makes me smile
And everytime that I drive to you it's always worth my while
