

The Luckiest

Hendersin

Self-admitted Rambler
Never was a gambler
But I would bet it all on us
Never been a betting man
But since I got this wedding band
I would bet it all on us

We know how to play them cards
Used to get kicked out of bars
Dancing like the world was ours
Me, you and the starts

And I knew I hit that jackpot
'Cause you don't play like a mascot
And you're 'bout paper. Ask Scott
When it's time to go, I'd ask not

'Cause you always had me tongue-tied
Old-souled but young-eyed
And that door to my heart swung wide open

Self-admitted Rambler
Never was a gambler
But I would bet it all on us
Never been a betting man
But since I got this wedding band
I would bet it all on us

So fresh, so clean
What that mean?
We'll be the biggest outcasts that they've ever seen
This love was found
We doubled down
Turns out that we're the luckiest people around

Never took their route. The payout was crazy
Now they're all a bit lost, and the pit boss' thinking maybe
That we just been counting cards but promise that ain't happening
They can all be in denial
We just call that African

I'm betting all my chips
This love rare like an eclipse
I said once I seen them hips
Put it on you like the lips
Little extra like the tips
We're just out here in the midst
Show 'em something
Helen-hunting
This is as good as it gets

House always wins. I know, but what about a home?
What about a home?
They say the house always wins. I know, but what about a home?
What about a home?

So fresh, so clean

What that mean?
This love was found
