

Happy As A Ghost

Her Space Holiday

i don't know where
i hide my emotions
wanted to show you
my undying devotion
they started to dance
to the sound of romance you said, don't they look happy i know you wish you were happy wanted to ask you

but my courage fell through so you missed our drinks and ignored my kinks
but they're there

i know the reason
that you hate the season
i leave you feeling
like you're unappealing
so we have to leave
and i grabbed your car keys hand in hand
too much beauty for me to stand

i watched the lights move across your perfect face there's no other time
there's no other place
that i'd rather be
here with you
than here with you
