

The Doctor and the DJ

Her Space Holiday

A drink for one is never fun
A sip deadens the pain
She's sick of games and learning names
She puts her black book away

She scans the place for a friendly face
Suddenly everything's changed
He took a chance on romance
Without knowing her name, knowing her name

So he moved in on a whim
And now her house is their home
She forgets the days of the drunken haze
And waiting by the phone

They lie in bed with nothing said
As she gently falls asleep
He thinks about how life would be
If they didn't meet

The doctor and the DJ
Took it all in stride
I hope that she knows
She'll make, a beautiful bride

It's funny, how life can change at the drop of a dime
All it takes is a little faith that everything is fine
So I raise my glass to better times, I'm glad that I didn't miss
My chance to see and to misery

The doctor and the DJ
Took it all in stride
I hope that she knows
She'll make, a beautiful bride
