

Tonight's The Night

Hermes House Band

baby your eyes are like sunshine your smile is the sweetest I've seen in my lifetime waiting to make you happy then you suddenly kissed me and you said because you couldn't resist me I never knew you felt the same way too tonight's the night the world's ours we're gonna celebrate our love among the stars I will be yours and you will be mine until the sun begins to shine under the moon the moon of love

I must have been blinded but now I found you I really don't mind it. you opened my eyes showing me what to look for You started a fire I feel a deep and burning desire baby I'm yours and that's forever more tonight's the night...
