

Carry The Doubt

Her's

Change out your shirt
Know what you're your worth
You have a whole new world
Open their eyes
You're the surprise
Can't take it one more night
He's seen it all
You make the call
Oh what a pleasant sight
Enough is enough
He talks too much
Oh to be whole in life

Don't be sad when they're tying you down
Don't panic we're working it now
And he'll forget what the fuss was about
Just promise me you won't carry the doubt

A night to assert
Take that dessert
It's always been your right
A run of the mill
Family to thrill
We'll take them in our stride
As I watch you smile
Once in a while
I know you'll be alright
I've left the back seat
Take what you need
I'll be back home tonight

Don't be sad when they're tying you down
Don't panic we're working it now
And he'll forget what the fuss was about
Just promise me you won't carry the doubt

He just wants you to be young again
It's true
He just wants to be young again
It's you
He just wants you to be young again
It's true
He just wants to be young again
It's you
He just wants you to be young again
It's true
He just wants to be young again
It's you
