

The Boy Destroyers

Hey Mercedes

So the soldiers soak up all the sun
And the company is continually struck dumb
Now everyone wonders where we're from
While the level-headed are heading for their homes
Way before they come
All I know is I'm never gonna go
The safe way home
So here's a clue for all you new boy destroyers
Never ever think about granting us piece
But please relieve the clarity and forget them
Before our loyal own start moaning like children
Before their uniformed brethren
Send them to heaven
All I know is I'm never gonna go
The safe way home
Quality time with the unkind is better than being alone
It's all I know
Why does every evening have to end this way
Huddled in a bundle in a dark dark doorway
Freezing please baby throw down some keys
Let this kitten in
Meow it's me
All I know is I'm never gonna go
The safe way home
Quality time with the unkind is better than being alone
It's all I know
Why does every evening have to end this way
Why oh why does every evening have to end
