

Maine

hey, nothing

Dove right into the water, I think you'll be just fine
Can we stay here forever wasting all of our time?
Maybe it's far from perfect, maybe I'm losing my mind
And if you feel it's not worth it, I pray to God that you'll lie

And I (I), left my lungs in Maine
I (I), I don't breathe the same
It's fine (Fine), I'll be back someday
It's fine (Fine), I know it won't change

Maybe I'll stay forever
Maybe for one more night
And if it's for the better
I'll stay as long as you'd like

And I can't wait not to go home
So far away from everything I know
Is it okay for me to feel close to a place that I barely know?

On the phone with my mother, I think I made her cry
When I told her I loved her, and I'd be back the 9th
(Hey, um, our flight got delayed, so I don't think we're gonna make it back until the 10th)
And I know I've been distant, maybe that's alright (I'm sorry, I'm so sorry)
But I promise I'll listen when I have the time

I (I), left my lungs in Maine
I (I), I don't talk the same
And I've (I've), given up my shame
So why (Why), do I still feel your pain?

And I can't wait not to go home
So far away from everything I know
Is it okay for me to feel close to a place that I barely know?
And I can't wait not to go home
So far away from everything I know
Is it okay for me to feel close to a place that I barely know?
