

Party Brain

hey, nothing

If my thoughts were a party then you'd be the part
Where I would stand on the table
And rip out your heart
In front of all of your friends
In front of all of my friends
In front of all of your best friends, best friends boyfriends

If my thoughts were a party then you'd be the drinks
That everyone wants but nobody needs
And I'd be the drugs that everyone takes
But soon after regrets and admits their mistakes

We go so well together
We go so well together
We go so well together
We go so well together

If my thoughts were a party then you'd be the smoke
And I'd be the smell that sticks to your coat
That you'd hope is gone by the time you got home
So your parents would never ever ever know

If my thoughts were a party then you'd be the stairs
That I'd lead you up
On a dumb double dare
And into the closet is where we would go
Trick our friends into leaving us alone

We go so well together
We go so well together
We go so well together
We go so well together

Then the cops arrive
And break us up
But we feel alive cause we feel in love
And the party ends
And we wake up
But the party in my head
Will never be enough

We go so well together
We go so well together
We go so well together
We go so well together
