

Make God Cool Again

Hi-Rez

People seem to be forgetting 'bout you, God
But not me, I'm sorry
On behalf of the people who out there preaching that you are a fraud
You got me, you got me
I will always live and die for you, quit gettin' high for you
Quit telling lies for you, society make me cry for you
They keep demonizing you and politicizing you
And criticizing you, still weaponizing you
Tell me what am I to do to open their minds?
I'm tryna show 'em the light but I know that they blind
If you look around you, you will see God is visible
I've seen miracles, God shouldn't be political It's not a left or right wing, not a black or white thing
I know you'll get me through any single struggle my life brings
I stumble for a little but my faith still remains
They using you as a weapon nowadays, it's insane
You help me through the pain, you get me through the rain
You always keep me humble when I change through the fame
Tryna silence the discussion, I don't trust the government
Without faith we suffering, without it we have nothing
Politicians on a mission to make you hate your religion
And run away from tradition and put your trust in the system
When things go wrong in their life they wanna blame you
I hope people prayin' still regardless who they praise to

They always question you, God
I don't know why they say what they say
Always there when it's too hard
Gotta pray through the rain and the pain, yeah
Cuz when the times get tough and your mind gives up
Think there's nothing that you can do
When there's no more love and there's no more trust
I just turn all my faith to you

Cuz you gotta believe that you can achieve
Any thing that you want, remember nothing's a breeze
You gotta believe that you can achieve
Anything that you want, remember nothing's a breeze

People justifying their hatred through their support for you
Makes people on the fence about you keep ignoring you
There's an agenda that the elites of us can form it to
You always lead the way when the darkness is what I'm forging through They'll take you out the books, they gon' give me crazy looks
The radio won't play it if I sing it in my hooks
We say thank God but most of us barely mean it
We don't know that there is a really fine line in between it
Eyes wide, heart open, the whole system broken
You always give me hope every time I'm feeling hopeless
Grew up on my friends have faith but they lost it
When I needed that life preserver most you tossed it
Churches getting bombed, temples getting shot up
We pretend to care but we're just glad that it's not us
We've seen this in history, let's not get fooled again
I'll die on this hill tryna make God cool again

No, I don't wanna change nobody's mind, I don't wanna waste nobody's time

I just gotta pray that the hate and the pain in our face doesn't change our life

No matter what I go through in life, yeah, I know you got me
They don't want us to believe and have faith but that won't stop me

They always question you, God
I don't know why they say what they say
Always there when it's too hard
Gotta pray through the rain and the pain, yeah
Cuz when the times get tough and your mind gives up
Think there's nothing that you can do
When there's no more love and there's no more trust
I just turn all my faith to you

Cuz you gotta believe that you can achieve
Any thing that you want, remember nothing's a breeze
You gotta believe that you can achieve
Anything that you want, remember nothing's a breeze
