We've been so anti-gun that now the tide has changed tremendously and those who were historically anti-gun are now asking the question: How do I get a firearm?

Criminal gets weapons easily, I wanna get weapons easily too
They call me radical, but they didn't call it radical when Hitler was seizing the Jews
Or Fidel Castro was seizing the land
Or Mao Zedong was controlling their food
Or Stalin or Lenin or Mussolini was brainwashing and teaching the youth Between me and you
I wish we didn't have guns, but we live in a world where we do
If she's gonna have weapons and he's gonna have weapons
Then I'll be damned if I don't have to Government buildings protected with weapons
Meanwhile, schools are protected with signs
That say we don't allow weapons inside
I'm sure that that's really been saving kids' lives
They call me brainwashed and radical just 'cause the last couple of years I've been changing my mind
Don't even turn on the news anymore; nowadays, the media's wasting our time
Are you okay with guns in movies and music, not those exercising their rights?
Why are you okay when black children get shot in Chicago?
You only get mad when they're white
And if the lyrics have been bothering you in this song
Then you're only mad 'cause I'm right
I know you're the type just blaming the right
It probably helps you sleep better at night
But the truth is, ain't nobody coming to save you
So I'm gonna suggest you protect your own life
I ain't a Democrat, I ain't Republican, I'm just a rapper showing you the light

I don't know who we can trust
All we really got is us
They're coming for the ones you love
Ain't nobody taking my guns

The biggest mass genocides were always the government on their own people
I'm not waiting around for the sequel; all these people in power are evil
All these celebs are protected by weapons but criticizing us all from their thrones
They live behind guard gates that have armed guards but don't want you protecting your home
Tell me, how are you gonna be both anti-gun and anti-police all at the same time?
If you don't have weapons and they don't have weapons, then tell me, please, who's gonna stop the crimes?
Oh, you want the government having the weapons? I've seen this before in the most recent of times Defund the police, burn down the streets, that wasn't an accident, that was designed Politicians are protected by guns, so why the hell shouldn't we?
I think that my family that died in the Holocaust, honestly, they would agree
How come if I support guns in America, I'm just looked at as a racist Republ ican?

But if we're arming Ukraine, it's stunning and brave; they're clapping like seals, and they're loving it
A school shooter killed my cousin, and the damn city didn't do anything
Both parties just politicized, no one offered anything constructive They told the cops to wait outside; they told them not to rush in
I got no love for the government; God's the only one I'm trusting

I don't know who we can trust
All we really got is us
They're coming for the ones you love
Ain't nobody taking my guns

Well, we do want to turn out a growing trend of gun sales in America, so far this year, the FBI has conducted more than 28 million firearm background ch ecks and among them is an increasing number of women, an industry trade grou p says that woman have accounted for 40% of gun sales in recent years
