

Burned

Hidden in Plain View

it takes two to fall in love but only one has to pull the plug and then your left alone just like that.....
an open space on my wall where your pictures hung before there is dark holes.....inside them I see the emptyness thats inside of me you took away a part of me cause i cant be around you you took away my confidence can I live with out you?
with out you, with out you.....
I approach you say stay away my heart it drops
my body shakes in spite you've turned your world around and it spins me around my world is filled with muffled sounds its funny how a thought of you can pick me up and put me down you pull me down.
