

I turn the pages on the story of my life its been by far the worst chapter I could imagine me to write about a promise for forever, broken then put back together now its safe to say, there is no chance saving you this time so just walk away tonight and never say goodbye.

you cant say that I'm the one whose changed cause I've been this way forever and forever I will stay the same.
you cant say that I'm the one whose changed.

Your Insecurities are on your heels again never let them get the best of you never let those demons in your head. just stay away. cut off all communications, do whatever do whatever it takes, just walk away

you cant say that I'm the one whose changed
cause I've been this way forever
and forever I will stay the same.
you cant say that I'm the one whose changed cause your the one whose changed.
