

No Way Out

Hidden in Plain View

I cannot erase the past it is gone refocus reframe
the future is ours

broken and bruised smothered by the thoughts of you in my head
I cant resist

So go on, keep believing
this broken cycle's worth repeating I'll see my own way out I'll leave a trail to follow
this sugar pill is hard to swallow
but I'll find my own way out

Target acquired brought down by desire the secrets you keep aren't setting you free in the end only in your head

Shattered, confused this will be the death of you in your head
you can't resist

So go on, keep believing
this broken cycle's worth repeating
I'll see my own way out
I'll leave a trail to follow
This sugar pill is hard to swallow

Uncover the scars You're not the only one who got burned recovering the parts Taking the reigns we're taking over There's gotta be a way out for me they're pulling you down, pulling you under taking the reigns we're taking over I'll find a way out

There's gotta be a way out for me
no way, no way
There's gotta be a way
