Hung, Drawn and Quartered

High on Fire

The candle has burnt through, the wax that once covered my eyes The Pharisees told you, but you knew of the black serpent lies Come all ye losers, don't you know you're the children of life Follow me now and we'll burn down the pillars of time

The evil has come and the darkness will cover the light Above the legions, who will slay the poor and the blind Warriors that follow, won't you read the sign and the time Stand now in battle and we'll crush the clan and their kind
