

Morality Test

High Vis

Live a life without medicine
And say a prayer for every living thing
You can hear the refrain and you can bury your head again

Live a life just steeplechasing
Waiting for your world to detonate
You can wait your turn or you can spill your guts again
It's simpler to stay dead

A burial for the living
I'm just scared of ever giving in
With all my teeth I'll bite my tongue again
No space for a conversation
Always gagged and hesitating
Hands behind my back
No one wins again

And our competitive morality
Will be the end of you and me
You can never hide your past convincingly

So take me back and make it hurt
Repeat and then repent
Reflect the worst

I've seen the glass houses you're living in
And I've come here to smash your windows in Where do the bodies pile up
What do you do with them

And our competitive morality
Will be the end of you and me
You can never hide your past convincingly
Never hide your past convincingly
