

Uranium Heart

Highasakite

There had been fireworks for long
But I was the only one descended, now I know
I carve out all the pieces of my brain
Yeah, all the parts that used to have your stain

You'd try to tell me how to love
But it's like walking on a treadmill on the road
Yeah, it's like walking on a treadmill on the road
Going nowhere like a treadmill on the road

You know it doesn't add up
You know it doesn't add up
You know it doesn't add up
You won't break my uranium heart

You know it doesn't add up
You know it doesn't add up
You know it doesn't add up
You won't break my uranium heart

Oh, oh

So fire away, fire away, fire away
Fire away, fire away, fire away

Quiet now, the smoke clearing away
I was the only one to taste the spark, I know
You tore out all the beauty from my soul
And then you left it by a sign post in the dark
I'm still walking on a treadmill on the road
Going nowhere like a treadmill on the road

You know it doesn't add up
You know it doesn't add up
You know it doesn't add up
You won't break my uranium heart

You know it doesn't add up
You know it doesn't add up
You know it doesn't add up
You won't break my uranium heart

Oh, oh

Fire away, fire away, fire away
Fire away, fire away, fire away

Oh, oh

Fire away, fire away, fire away
Fire away, fire away, fire away
Fire away, fire away, fire away
Fire away, fire away, fire away
Fire away, fire away, fire away
