I can't sleep and memories of you won't leave
Instead of tossing and turning in misery until the morning sun rises
I want to get out of my house that feels especially stuffy
So I took my car keys and left
The GPS turns on along with the engine
And in the list of favorites, your house is on top
As if I saw something I shouldn't, I erased it all
My prideless heart is racing even faster

I'm used to these streets but I avoid it
Because I can see your house so I turned the steering wheel
On a strange highway, getting lost
It seems like me so I turned up the volume
I might seem sadder if I listen to upbeat music
So I turn on sad music instead
The streetlights pass by like film
What I'm passing by are my feelings for you

I step on the pedal harder
So our memories will break away
I open the window, bye bye
So my remaining feelings will scatter away
Oh oh, the good times
Oh oh, the bad times
I'm leaving them behind, drive drive drive

After going around and around for a while
When the streets started to look unfamiliar
The traffic light that made me stop
Seemed like you for some reason
Making me do what you told me to do
Making me go where you wanted me to go
Looking back
I didn't do anything on my own

Like a seat belt, your hand held mine so tight
(But not anymore)
It made me more comfortable than anything in the world
After I let you go back then

(After that day)
Nothing could hold me

I step on the pedal harder
So our memories will break away
I open the window, bye bye
So my remaining feelings will scatter away
Oh oh, the good times
Oh oh, the bad times
I'm leaving them behind, drive drive drive

The sky is turning blue, the sun's about to come up
It's like my heart, the sky is like my heart
It'll be okay now
Sleepless nights because of you
There will be no more, good bye

I step on the pedal harder
So our memories will break away
I open the window, bye bye
So my remaining feelings will scatter away
Oh oh, the good times
Oh oh, the bad times
I'm leaving them behind, drive drive drive

How much more do I have to go
(To forget you?)
At the end of this road
(Will I be able to let you go?)
If I go and go for a long time
(Will I be okay?)
I step on the pedal harder, drive drive
