

Dance in a Flame

Highlord

I've been trying, so hard
To follow all their rules
To be what the world wanted me to be Painful the struggle, it was tearing me apart from within
All I got was a trembling shade
Of the man I thought I should be

Are we starting something that's really new?
Or love will make me a victim of my past once again?

You and me forever, free like the wind we breath
A dance in a flame our lives won't last tonight
You and me forever, a leap into unknown seas
A gentle score to whom my heart will beat

A messed-up puzzle in a dark room
As the last memory of that day
Of that day fades out
I walked the streets of the world
With my pocket-size truth and my bag of lies
Too frightened to look that deep inside myself

Are we starting something that's really new?
Or love will make me a victim of my past once again?

You and me forever, free like the wind we breath
A dance in a flame our lives won't last tonight
You and me forever, a leap into unknown seas
A gentle score to whom my heart will beat

You and me... forever free... dance like a flame...