

Heavy Weather

HIMALAYAS

Switch on and dance like you mean it
The nightmare starts to feel like home
Ordinary truth, God's new fan fiction
Bring back the past, the future's gone
And I think I stayed too long

And when that stormy feeling
Is getting too much
Getting too much
The pressure you're relieving
Is never enough
Never enough

Unscrews, jumps in and escapes
Destruction winks and starts to flirt
Give back the faith that you're stealing
And no one will get hurt

I'm the one who stayed too long
After everyone had gone
Heavy weather has my mind in states like these
And there's clouds on the horizon
Don't shoot, it's hardly revealing
How quick you were to draw the gun
Now I'm so sick of receiving
Someone else's idea of fun

And when that stormy feeling
Is getting too much
Getting too much
The pressure you're relieving
Is never enough
Never enough
And when that stormy feeling
Is getting too much
Getting too much
Fuck me, I don't believe it
Because it's never enough
Never enough
