

Don't Believe It

Hinder

You say don't call you anymore
Cause we can't go back to before
But you know I'll try again if I don't see you

I packed you up
I moved you out
I got the TV, you took the couch
I kept the blame
We split the cats down the middle and thought that it would feel a little better by now
And now the house echoes when I'm talking to myself
The things I wouldn't talk about with anybody else, except for you
Except for you

You say don't call you anymore
Cause we can't go back to before
But you know I'll try again
If I don't see you, then I'll fall to pieces
Your tone says it all
And I know you've hit the wall
But you keep picking up the phone for a reason
I don't believe it, I don't believe it, I don't believe you
You're saying that we're through
I don't believe it, I don't believe it

I took you out, you took me home
You wouldn't fuck but you got me stoned
We talked about all the things we regretted and thought that this would feel a little better by now
I thought a new roommate would be a better time
But all we do is drink and smoke out everything in sight
I'm missing you
I'm missing you

You say don't call you anymore
Cause we can't go back to before
But you know I'll try again
If I don't see you, then I'll fall to pieces
Your tone says it all
And I know you've hit the wall
But you keep picking up the phone for a reason
I don't believe it, I don't believe it, I don't believe you
You're saying that we're through
I don't believe it, I don't believe it
You're saying that we're through

Are we through, are we through
Is it over for me and you
Cause I've been lost, to tell the truth
You're never out of mind when you're out of view
So I don't know what to do
Don't know how to get over you
Where you at
What's your move
Cause all I know is I don't think we're through
I don't think we're through

You say don't call you anymore
Cause we can't go back to before
But you know I'll try again
If I don't see you, then I'll fall to pieces
Your tone says it all
And I know you've hit the wall
You keep picking up the phone for a reason
I don't believe it, I don't believe it, I don't believe you
You're saying that we're through
I don't believe it, I don't believe you
You're saying that we're through
