

Live Without It

Hinder

Is there any reason I should keep believing
In the struggle we've been through
Is it any wonder why it's hard to keep trusting you
And now I'm getting older, the fire is getting colder
And it feels like wasting time
Is there any question why I shouldn't let this thing die

I can live without it
Tired of thinking about it anyway
(Quit fucking with my head)
I don't wanna leave it
I just don't think there's a better way
(Everything's been said)
Another go around, another break down
And you won't let it die
I can live without it
I can live without it anyway

I'm broken down and reeling, numb from all the feeling
And it's hard to even cry
How could you even notice when you barely look me in the eyes
The weight that's on my shoulders is like a thousand boulders
Suffocating me inside
Again I'll ask the question, why I shouldn't let this thing die

I can live without it
Tired of thinking about it anyway
(Quit fucking with my head)
I don't wanna leave it
I just don't think there's a better way
(Everything's been said)
Another go around, another break down
And you won't let it die
I can live without it
I can live without it anyway

I can live without it
Tired of thinking about it anyway
(Quit fucking with my head)
I don't wanna leave it
I just don't think there's a better way

I can live without it
Tired of thinking about it anyway
(Quit fucking with my head)
I don't wanna leave it
I just don't think there's a better way
(Everything's been said)
Another go around, another break down
And you won't let it die
I can live without it
I can live without it anyway

I can live without it
I can live without it anyway
I can live without it
I can live without it anyway
