Too Late

Hinder

Most times the days are long when they used to go by so fast
When I was younger and inspired with song, but my confidence has passed
I may still look young in your eyes but my heart's in the twilight years
You can still be moved to cry, but as for me, I have no tears

And you say, whoa
Oh, whoa-whoa

And maybe I'll go, maybe I'll wait
Can you give me some hope, that it's not too late
Now baby look at me, can you make me hesitate
'Cause I wanna believe that it's not too late

And you say, oh
That oh, oh
Oh

When I'm gone will you miss my face and all the things we've shared
Lately everything is out of place, have I forgotten how to care
Has my heart outgrown my years, or am I just too scared
To let you in and show you the fear that I'm alone and you never cared

And you say, whoa
Oh-oh-oh

Maybe I'll go, maybe I'll wait
Can you give me some hope, that it's not too late
Now baby look at me, can you make me hesitate
'Cause I wanna believe that it's not too late

And you say, oh
That oh, it's not too late
When you say, oh
That oh, that oh, it's not too late

Maybe I'll go, maybe I'll wait
Maybe I'll go, maybe I'll wait
Can you give me some hope, that it's not too late
Now baby look at me, can you make me hesitate
'Cause I wanna believe that it's not too late

And you say, oh
That oh, oh, it's not too late
When you say, oh
That oh, that oh, it's not too late

And you say oh
Oh, oh
Yeah, yeah, yeah
