

Echoing My Name

Hinds

The silence I hear when you escape
Your eyes are echoing my name
The dust I left, your saint is chasing
Your eyes are echoing my name
Your eyes are echoing my name

Mysteriously, I still like hearing
Your eyes echoing my name
The rabbit can't dictate the way
With your eyes echoing my name
Your eyes are echoing my name

Meaning no harm, I keep trying
To find you uptown
Why when love isn't sticky enough it stays
Hitting you for so long
You say what you want, I keep trying
To find you uptown
Even if love did crush us down
Sometimes I miss having you around

No, I won't leave, don't blame me if
Your eyes are echoing my name
I bet your maze betrays your faith when
Your eyes are echoing my name
Your eyes are echoing my name

Behinds the scenes I wonder
Are your eyes echoing my name
The lighthouse turned from red to white again
Still echoing my name
Your eyes are echoing my name

Meaning no harm, I keep trying
To find you uptown
Why when love isn't sticky enough it stays
Hitting you for so long
You say what you want, I keep trying
To find you uptown
Even if love did crush us down
Sometimes I miss having you around

You say what you want, I keep trying
To find you uptown
Even if love did crush us down
Sometimes I miss having you around
