

One tune to the people I thought I knew
Specially you
One tune to the people I thought I knew
Specially you

'Cause you were always welcome
To every inch of my world
And you were always welcome
Specially you
Specially you

One tune to the people I thought I knew
Specially you
One tune to the people I thought I knew
Specially you

Your mum and dad are paying all your bills
None of your friends will tell you how they really feel
Your mum and dad are paying all your bills
No wonder why you treat me like you're still a kid

Good job
Now you're a local superstar
That only hangs with superstars
Carrying the weight of all that fame

One tune to the people I thought I knew
Specially you
One tune to the people I thought I knew
Specially you

Your mum and dad are paying all your bills
None of your friends will tell you how they really feel
Your mum and dad are paying all your bills
No wonder why you treat me like you're still a kid

Good job
Now you're a local superstar
That only hangs with superstars
Carrying the weight of all that fame
Carrying humanity's joy and pain
Making sure no one thinks you look lame
But baby, we all do
Specially you

You made your choice
You layered up
You threatened us
You changed the past
You didn't even say goodbye
Man, oh man, I worked so hard for you
Specially you

'Cause you were always welcome
To every inch of my world
And you were always welcome
