

KABANERIOFTHEIRONFORTRESS

Hiroyuki Sawano

Hearts bruise easily
How much strength our bodies have achieved
Won't you please forgive yourself?
And then tears will go above the sky

So sob bitterly in my arms
Just let go selfishly
You don't have to feel your guilt
That you walk ahead of your hope

Don't be afraid
The daybreak has come and there's no curtain to call
No regrets are needed among the world of you and I
You know we have made every damn single mistake
That's what it's all about, the life we survive
