

Song of ..<AM>

Hiroyuki Sawano

How long must I wait?
The hopes that I chase
Whether it's too late
If my bird has flown
Away?

The dreamer you've been
Your little girl has become
What should I do?
Your plans fell through for you
But I must believe in myself
But I must believe in myself

Don't say goodbye
Two birds are flying high
And I must leave on a wind only for the few Dangerous and lonely times there may be
She's forever asking will she leave
Is this what a dreamer should feel?

Say goodbye to my drab and passive days right now
You've found the gem in me
There's no other reason, you made me what I am
No more cry
I don't have to be in despair
Just to live according to how I feel
Your words often echoes in my heart
I can say it's all because of you

Don't say goodbye
Are the clouds forever new?
Inspiring me feather's can change from grey to blue
Every second children are being born
I can keep the world they enter warm and still
Full of the spirit of dawn

Let's sing a song of the future
We're on a great adventure
Do you know a song of the future?
We're always wishing and dreaming on
Let's sing a song of the future
Might be the hard adventure
No matter how it hurts
Keep on going just keep on moving
We're gonna draw our ways

How long must I wait?
The hopes that I chase
Whether it's too late
If my bird has flown
Away?

The dreamer you've been
Your little girl has become
What should I do?
Your plans fell through for you
But I must believe in myself

But I must believe in myself
