

The March Of Dissent

Hit The Switch

These are the words nullified by my superiors withstanding the machines oligarchy, project my dissent, the concern for humanitarian beliefs we don't agree with present law

The Fight never ends when were not aware,
to late to go it alone
the need for socialization, exceeded by illusion
the march is on for new decree!

Were on the brink almost extinct, reluctant to protest an elite, tradition of disease, the stance is not so great, when they control your fate, all is lost to their will!

The Fight never ends when were not aware,
to late to go it alone
the need for socialization,
the march is on for new decree!
