

Everyone's The Same Age

Hockey

Yeah, everybody's got a soul to shine I know
I want to be good enough for someone but no one says it like that

Yeah, Britain's favorite junky of '04 I know
First they're gonna build him up and then just let him go

No, it's not the same
When they call me by my name these days
Because I know by the sound
That they don't know who I am, oh no, no

Well, I only dance 3 times a year
And I only say what I feel
'Cause it's worth it you know
Yeah, you know

Yeah, everybody's got a soul to shine I know
I want to be good enough for someone but just don't say it like that

One girl on fire just trying now to keep it out I see
The harder that she tries more bright it's gonna shine you see

No, it's not the same
When they call me by my name these days
Because I know by the sound
That they don't know who I am, oh no, no

I only say what I feel, I only feel three times a year
Sike, everyone feels all the time
And when the light's went out of the sky
Over my grandparents farm in July I said I'm gonna play the NBA
Hey, hey, hey, yeah, I'm gonna do that
