

Greater

Hoku

Your Spirit moves above the formless darkness
Your words spoken
In daylight broken
Earth, and sky, and love, and light, and wonder
Brought to being
From Your heart's dreaming

Who is there to tame You?
Would could overtake You, Lord?
You are without compare
And yet, Your love is with me
A Spirit dwells within me
Whom, then, shall I fear?

When You are
Greater than the wind
Greater than the waves
You're closer than a whisper
But stronger than the grave
All will bow before You
Yet, all the chained are free
Let all Your children sing

You are greater
You are greater

Who am I that Your love years to find me?
Ever-seeking [?] arms reaching
All we love, and need, and hope, and wonder
Your heart knowing
And Your heart holding, oh-oh-oh

Who can rise above You?
Who could overcome You, Lord?
You are without compare, oh
And yet, Your love is with me
A Spirit dwells within me
Whom, then, shall I fear?

When You are
Greater than the wind
Greater than the waves
You're closer than a whisper
But stronger than the grave
All will bow before You
Yet, all the chained are free
Let all Your children sing

You are greater
You are greater

Let my foe surround me
He will not survive the fire
'Cause You are here and You are greater
Greater, greater

Greater than the wind
All will bow before You

You are greater
You are greater
You are greater
You are greater
