

Save Yourself

Hollow Front

No more heroes

Time has cursed me to resent
A lost art that comes from within
There's no savior I've met
Who can pull me from this breakdown

Don't look to me
Don't look to me to save you
I can barely
I can barely take care of myself
I've fought my whole life (Fought my whole life)
Battling my mind from the inside
Taking all my time
Only to watch myself burn
Turn around so you can watch me burn

I am no hero
Nobody worth getting near to
My only wish is to be somebody else (Somebody else)

Reach down for the strength to find closure
Breathe through all this pain til it's over
Our memories become
Dead memories again
Reach down for the strength to save yourself

Meet me inside this cage
Breathe the sulfur
Watch me suffer
Ingesting the disease
Turn you into all the things
That I hate when I look in the mirror

You'll see yourself wrapped up
Consumed by burning rage
Reaching for hope
In a place fueled by misery

Reach down for the strength to find closure
Breathe through all this pain til it's over
Our memories become
Dead memories again
Reach down for the strength to save yourself

Tell me (Tell me)
What it is you think you need
I'm not (I'm not)
The cure for your apathy
Our memories become
Dead memories again
Reach down for the strength to save yourself

I am no hero
Believe me, I'm less than zero
A foolish man dressed in a failure's skin
I am no hero

Nobody worth getting near to
My only wish is to be somebody else
