

Almost A Miracle

Holly Macve

You said the night that you met me, was the night you met yours elf

Pale blue eyes looking back at you, no past to regret

It's almost a miracle, just to be here at all

Watching the sun on the horizon, blink and watch it fall

It's not for nothing, this life

And I know this when I look in your eyes

You said nothing lasts forever, not even the stars above

But that's what makes it all worthwhile

The roads were long and lonely, from Texas to Idaho

We were travelin' through the country, thousands of miles from home

I was so young then, I didn't know much at all

But I'd always be home again whenever you would call

It's not for nothing, this life

And I know this when I look in your eyes

You said nothing lasts forever, not even the stars above

But that's what makes it all worthwhile
