

Bird

Holly Macve

I saw you in my dream last night
My little lost bird
Colorful with eyes so bright
Lighting up my world

You came to tell me everything
That I'm too stubborn to learn
And with no doubt, I leaned in and watched my troubles burn

The flames are dancing, and the flames are free
My heart's been hiding, but my eyes now see
Everything I've been missing is everything I could be
Everything I've been missing is everything you give to me

I heard you in my dream last night
My little lost bird
You sang a song and it found me like no song had done before
You came to me like a memory like a love I'd already learned
And with no doubt, I leaned in and watched my troubles burn

The flames are dancing, and the flames are free
My heart's been hiding, but my eyes now see
Everything I've been missing is everything I could be
Everything I've been missing is everything you give to me

Ooh everything I've been missing, everything I could be Everything I've been missing, everything I could be

Ooh everything I've been missing, everything I could be
Ooh everything I've been missing is everything you give to me

I saw you in my dream last night
My little lost bird
Colorful with eyes so bright
Lighting up my world
